

HONORS DISTINCTION

Undergraduate students: Follow a rigorous but flexible path and earn an Honors Distinction!

Complete approved course work, an approved global or experiential activity, Honors Outside the Classroom Curriculum, and a capstone course or experience and earn official recognition for your work.

The Honors Distinction offers a lighter credit load than the Honors Degree program, which may be appealing if you are a transfer student or in a highly structured, credit-intensive program.

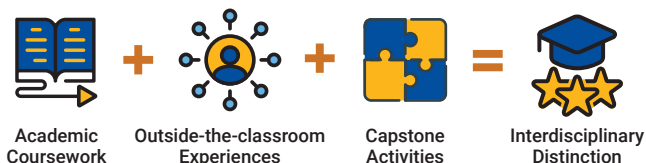

Benefits of Earning the Honors Distinction

- Earn notation of your achievement on your academic transcript.
- Receive a digital catalog of your work with a unique URL that you can use on your resume and networking sites and share with prospective employers and recruiters.
- Build a portfolio with academic, professional, and service-oriented experiences.
- Develop the skills to critically think about how what you learn inside the classroom can be applied to your experience in the world.

Enroll Now!

You can declare your intention to pursue the Honors Distinction after completing at least one term at Pitt with a cumulative GPA of 3.000 and by following these steps:

1. Log in to my.pitt.edu and search or select the OCC task to access Suitable.
2. Navigate to "Achievements."
3. Access "Milestones" to locate the Interdisciplinary Distinctions badge.
4. Complete the Distinction Declaration form.

Questions?

Contact honors@pitt.edu.